POLICY COMMITTEE OF MINERS MEETS TO DISCUSS MOVE

Will Determine Answer Of Miners To Harding's Proposal.

REJECTION HINTED
BEFORE CONFERENCE

Lewis Declares Plan For Arbitration Is Out Of Question.

Washington, July 15—The policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America, 220 strong, went into session here today to determine the answer of the miners to President Harding's proposal to end the coal strike.

Strong indications that the miners would recommend the rejection of the president's offer, or "accept" it with such reservations as to amount to rejection, were apparent when the session began.

It was officially known, for one thing, that John L. Lewis' conference with President Harding last night had effected no change in the stand the miners have taken throughout the week.

Lewis, who is chairman of the policy committee, indicated that acceptance of the president's plan—which calls for the appointment of a commission to investigate and arbitrate the issues in dispute between miners and operators—was out of the question, in that it failed utterly to recognize the "essential demands" of the miners. These demands, briefly are:

Miners' Demands:
That arbitration not include mediation of points already settled by past agreements such as the wage scale obtaining at the time of the walkout, the check-off system, and the right to collective bargaining.

It also fails to specifically provide, miners' leaders declared, for the extension of any benefits derived through the acts of an arbitration commission to include the many thousands of non-union miners who have joined the ranks of the strikers since the strike was called.

The miners, their spokesmen said, are willing to have a thorough investigation of the mining industry instituted by a commission in an effort to restore order out of the economic chaos now prevailing in the industry, but they absolutely refuse to submit to arbitration issues which they view as "closed matters."

CLAYTON MINSER, 77, DIES WHILE SITTING IN CHAIR AT SON'S HOME

Clayton Minser, 77, widely known farmer of this vicinity died at the home of his son, Howard Minser, Ellsworth rd., at 10:30 a. m. Saturday, death coming very unexpectedly. Mr. Minser had gone into the yard and apparently had fallen asleep in his chair, but when found later was discovered to have slept away.

Mr. Minser was born near Goshen, Nov. 1, 1845. He was actively engaged in farming until two years ago when he and his wife went to reside with their son, Howard. Mr. and Mrs. Minser celebrated their golden wedding anniversary three years ago.

Two sons, Elmer and Howard, his widow, who was formerly Miss Rebecca Kidd, and one sister Mrs. Rebecca Kidd, all of this vicinity survive.

The funeral will be at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the home of Howard Minser on the Ellsworth road. Efforts are being made to secure Rev. H. L. Miller, who is at Oberlin college, to officiate at the service. Interment in Hope cemetery.

Scout Troops 4 and 7 Will Camp Near Franklin Square

The Boy Scouts of Troops 4 and 7 will leave for camp Monday noon, as the camp site at Franklin Square on the Stiller farm was approved today by Chairman E. E. Enderlin of the Scout council and Arthur B. Haslam, chairman of the committee on camping. Rev. J. P. Harman, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 4, will be assisted at the camp by Donald Izenour, senior patrol leader of Troop 4 and Kenneth Kelly, patrol leader of Troop 7.

Each scout will be required to provide his own cooking outfit, soap, fishing tackle, signal flags, bathing suit, blankets, comb, tooth brush, towels and a change of underwear and stockings. The troop organizations will supply first aid materials and tents. Scoutmasters Parker Lowell and E. V. Burt have arranged to spend as many nights as possible at the camp to assist in the constructive program of scouting outlined by Rev. Harman, who was a lieutenant in the

New Mistress Of The Gould Millions

Mrs. George Jay Gould

The announcement of the marriage in Paris of George J. Gould to Mrs. Alice Sinclair, former musical comedy actress, caused a stir in New York society. The first Mrs. Gould, formerly Edith Kingdon, the actress, dropped dead last November while playing golf with her husband at their country home, Georgian Court, Lakewood, N. J. Members of the Gould family are said to have registered no opposition to the marriage.

Residents of Austintown Center, near Youngstown, were driven into their houses by an enraged bull which escaped from his enclosure Friday. Sheriff Ben J. Morris and deputies, called from Youngstown, assisted Samuel Lavello, owner, in capturing the animal. Sight of one of the bull's eyes was destroyed by buckshot from guns fired by the residents.

ROUNDING THE CORNERS

Lisbon, July 15—The work of rounding the corners on the public square in Lisbon has started, the telephone companies moving back their poles preparatory to removing the old poles and trees that now stand at the corners. Each corner will be cut back 14 feet, giving wider latitude for autos to turn.

When the plan was first proposed, there were a lot of protests and the city council called a special meeting to hear the protests, but no one appeared and the plans as prepared by the commissioners are to be carried out.

aviation service during the war. Reville will be sounded each morning at 6:40 o'clock and there will be a setting-up drill before the 7 o'clock breakfast. Camp fatigue, foot drill and practice in scoutcraft will consume the forenoon. Two hours after the noon meal the scouts can swim. Scout examinations will be given from 4 to 5:30 p. m., which will be supertime, and the call to quarters will be sounded at 9:30 with taps at 10 after which all scouts must be snoozing soundly.

This program was outlined in accordance with the wishes of the Scout council which is making every endeavor to establish scouting on a high plane in Salem.

This evening Scoutmaster Lee R. Chamberlain of Troop 1 will leave for Culver, Ind., to attend the Scoutmasters Training school where he has been sent by the Salem Rotary club in recognition of his long and effective service in scouting in this county.

OHIO GUARDS MOBILIZED ON DAVIS' ORDER

Governor Says Troops Will Be Ready For Strike
Emergencies.

Columbus, July 15—Responding to orders issued by Gov. Davis, nearly 300 Ohio National Guardsmen are mobilized today at their home stations at Circleville, Columbus, Delaware and Zanesville, ready for possible service in connection with the coal or railroad strike.

Announcement was made at the office of Adj. Gen. Florence here this morning that reports indicated conditions are quiet and that no orders for troop movement have been issued. "This action was deemed necessary at this time, although conditions everywhere are reported quiet at present," declared Gov. Davis, "but the increasing effect of the railroad strike, coupled with the coal mine situation, made it advisable that every precaution be taken to avoid any unnecessary delay in the event it should develop that the use of troops to prevent violence against life, or property cannot be avoided."

"With these troops under arms, it will be possible to rush them to threatened localities promptly," the governor said.

The anesville and Circleville militiamen will be available if state troops are needed at the Consolidated Coal and Coke company's mine, near New Straitsville, Perry county, or at other points in the coal mining regions.

The Delaware soldiers are close to Crestline, where according to Ohio National Guard officials, a critical situation has developed in connection with striking Big Four and Pennsylvania railroad shopmen. (Continued on fifth page.)

SALEM WOMAN CHARGES CRUELTY, GETS DIVORCE

Mrs. Helen Truta of Salem, was granted a divorce in court on Friday morning from her husband, Basil, because of alleged cruelty which she stated dated back to the time of their marriage less than three years ago.

They were married in the Roman Catholic church in Alliance when the plaintiff was 15 and the defendant 41, and their child is now 18 months old. Truta is employed by the Salem Light company in Salem, and the wife claimed that he has $1,475 in the Farmer's National bank. The court made an order providing alimony for the support of the child.

CONVENT FUND EXCEEDS $1,000, TEAMS REPORT

One thousand and ten dollars have been raised by teams of St. Paul's Catholic church toward a fund of $3,000 to be used for building purposes at the Lovellville convent which was damaged by lightning about one year ago. This convent in addition to the destruction caused by lightning was in need of repairs and the money will be put to that use.

Reports of the campaign were given at a meeting of the women of the parish Friday night. The campaign will close next Wednesday night.

NEGOTIATIONS TO END RAIL STRIKE ARE DEADLOCKED

Report Conditions On Roads
Are Becoming More Serious Daily.

12 BANKS ATTACKED
BY EMPLOYEES HEAD

Jewell Blames Big Financial Institutions For Continuing Strike.

Chicago, July 15—Negotiations for settlement of the strike of railway shopmen were virtually at a deadlock today as the strike entered its third week and no end of the walkout appeared in sight.

Conditions on the railroads attributable to the strike are becoming more serious, all reports indicated, and predictions were made that coming week might witness the crisis of the controversy.

Chairman Ben W. Hooper, of the United States railway labor board, was continuing his efforts today to bring about an adjustment but would hold out no definite hope of success. Peace parleys thus far arranged have developed no basis upon which the striking shopmen and the carriers could reach an agreement.

The differences between the roads and the employees were described by Hooper as "fundamental." The unions are insisting that the basis of settlement include abolition of the contract system, modification of protested working rules, revision of the wage scale and establishment of a national adjustment board.

The unions also demand that all men who went on strike be restored to full seniority rights.

Jewell Attacks Banks
The railroads it was announced, are willing to agree to abolition of the contract system and to the establishment of regional adjustment boards. They refuse to agree to restoration of seniority to strikers and contend that questions of wages and working rules must be taken up through the labor board.

B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor and leader of the striking shopmen, today charged that a group of 12 banks and financial institutions control the financial policy of the railroads and laid responsibility for continuation of the strike to Wall street's desire to crush the labor unions.

These institutions, Jewell said, control 82 per cent of the railroad mileage of the country and also the equipment companies and many of the coal mines upon which the roads depend for fuel. They hold 267 directorships, Jewell said, in 92 of the first class railroads.

The financiers directing these institutions, the shop crafts leader charged, are the "forces in back of the difficulties of promptly settling this strike."

Jewell again attacked the wage reduction decision of the labor board as unjust and charged that the board "deliberately violated the transportation act that created it and which required that wages be just and reasonable in relation to the cost of living."

SONS OF VETERANS TO HAVE OUTING SUNDAY

Members of Philip Triem camp No. 43, Sons of Veterans, and their wives and members of the auxiliary will assemble at G. A. R. hall, Broadway at 10 a. m., Sunday to go to the home of Morris Votaw, Guilford, for a picnic. There will be a picnic dinner and watermelon and ice cream will be served free. It is expected between 75 and 80 will attend.

At a meeting of the camp Friday evening, Commander A. H. Fults invited the members to be his guests following a meeting in one week at his home on Roosevelt avenue.

Priests Desire To Marry, Ask Vatican's O.K.

Rome, July 15.—A petition has been addressed to the Vatican asking for dispensation to relieve priests of their ecclesiastical obligation of celibacy, it was learned today. The indications, however, are that the petition will have no results.

The Italian newspaper Epoca had declared that the petition was signed by a number of priests and cardinals, but inquiry at the Vatican elicited the information that the petition was anonymous with no names to indicate the authorship.

Officials of the Vatican denied that there is a general desire on the part of priests to marry. They pointed out that the papal policy in this respect is best exemplified by the recent communication of a Roman Catholic priest in Czechoslovakia because he had joined an anti-bachelor organization.

In view of the policy of the Vatican regarding the private life of priests and the fact that the authors of the petition dared not sign it, belief was apparent that it will get no attention at all.

STATE PROBING ORIGIN OF FIRE

Chief Of State Arson Department Begins Investigation Of Origin Of Blaze At Acme Dollar Store—Incendiarism Theory Is Being Probed.

An investigation of the origin of the fire last Sunday at the Acme store, 103 Main st., which caused damage estimated at over $25,000, has been started by M. V. Patton of Cleveland, chief of the arson department of the state fire inspection division.

Mr. Patton is conducting his investigation from two angles—one that the fire originated within the store and the other that it originated outside the store under the steps and the flames burst into the store, enveloping the interior.

The theory of incendiarism looms prominently in the investigation and it is hinted that several important clues have been uncovered which give more credence to the incendiarism belief. No direct statement has been made by Mr. Patton who has not completed his probe.

Wreckage at the rear of the store was removed upon Mr. Patton's arrival here Thursday to determine if matches stored at the back of the building might have been the cause of the disastrous blaze which required several hours to extinguish and for a time endangered frame buildings adjoining.

Persons living near the scene of the fire are being questioned by Mr. Patton in his investigation. Every phase of the fire is being considered and it is expected that the probe will not be completed this week.

Insurance adjusters have examined the property, the greater portion of which was destroyed. Inspection of the damage to the property has been completed but no estimates have been submitted other than those given out immediately following the fire.

David Goldberg, proprietor of the store, has announced that he will again resume business as soon as all investigations have been finished.

THREE DOLLAR DAY PRIZE WINNERS

Brisk buying Saturday promised to make the last of the two Salem News and Merchants Dollar Days by far the best, although all merchants participating in this great merchandising event that opened Friday morning reported exceptionally good business yesterday.

When Friday's sales slips were checked at 10 a. m. Saturday by H. Parker Lowell, secretary of the Retail Merchants Board of the Chamber of Commerce, the prize winners for having purchased the largest total amounts were announced as follows:

First prize, $25, to Miss Doris Matthews, 215 Jennings ave.

Second prize, $15, to N. B. Buckman, 108 East Sixth st.

Third prize, $10, to Mrs. Thomas V. Yates, 54 Woodland ave.

The prize winning purchases amounted to $175; a total of $127.95 landed second money, while third honors were secured with a total purchase of $90.

Mrs. Steve Benedict, 177 Etna st., came in for honorable mention with purchases amounting to $71.20.

Interest focuses today on the amount necessary to capture Saturday's first prize. The same amounts will be awarded for the three largest total purchases as indicated by the sales slips submitted to the secretary in the Chamber of Commerce rooms before 10 a. m. Monday.

MOTORCYCLE COP REFUSED, LACK FUNDS

Council Finds No Money To Meet Initial Expense Of Buying Car.

Salem police department will be without the services of a motorcycle policeman for six months at least, according to the announcement of Safety Director A. H. Chalfant.

In his appropriation request in the budget for the last six months, the safety director asked for an appropriation to purchase a motorcycle and pay the salary of a motorcycle policeman, but council eliminated the request, stating that the amount of money subject for appropriation was insufficient to meet the necessary operating expenses.

William Bryn was on duty for one week as a special motorcycle policeman and during that time approximately $100 was collected in fines from speeders. Bryn is now on duty as night patrolman, substituting for Officer Wallace Kirkbride who is off duty settling the damage claims on the Kirkbride building which was damaged by fire.

In his request to council for consideration of the purchase of a motorcycle and the hiring of a motorcycle policeman, Safety Director Chalfant pointed out that the officer would bring in enough money in fines to pay his salary, but council appropriation committee voted against the proposal as the initial expense is beyond the city's financial means at the present time. The same request may be submitted at the January budget meeting.

K. L. Webster, of the Citizens Savings bank, accompanied by his wife, attended a meeting of the executive committee of Group 8, Ohio Bankers association, which was held Friday at the Dover Country club, Dover.

Committees of the group met at this time to arrange for their annual meeting which will be held Sept. 6 at Cadiz.

The meeting was well attended, all counties of the group being represented. On this occasion the representatives of the member counties were accompanied by their wives. All enjoyed luncheon, which was served at 11:30, and the afternoon was devoted to business.

Miss Betty Schaffer, Warren, is the guest of Miss Ella Meyer, Woodland at all.

HALF-YEAR BUDGET OF $69,689 PASSED BY SALEM COUNCIL

Safety, Service And Health
Departments Are Allocated $28,929.

DEPARTMENT HEADS
REQUESTS ARE CUT

Fines From Mayor's Court
Are Appropriated For City Expenses.

Passage of the semiannual budget of $69,689.17 to defray operating expenses of the city from July 1 to Jan. 1923, was consummated Friday night at a special session of city council.

Of the total amount appropriated $40,760 is for maintenance of the waterworks department and $28,929.17 is for the safety, service and health departments.

Appropriation requests of department heads were sliced to the lowest figure to insure the operation of each respective department as the amount of money received from state and county taxes, fines, automobile licenses and other sources was not sufficient to meet all requests.

Service Gets Most
The service department is the most expensive department of the city, $12,298.94 being appropriated, including $2,395.90 carried forward from the first six months.

Department appropriations were made as follows: General, $414.84; safety, $9,652; health, $1,755.84; service, $9,902.04 and $140 in the park fund, in addition to the surplus of each fund.

The ordinance was signed Saturday morning by Acting Mayor B. L. Flick and goes into effect at once.

Approximately all money appropriated in January and collected during the six months by Mayor John W. Post from fines and licenses was used in the operation of the city treasury exclusive of $2,158.22 obtained from the state for state of automobile license tags.

Appropriation of $4,935 in the general administration fund is for the purpose of paying salaries of the mayor, city auditor, city solicitor, city treasurer, city council, council clerk, humane officer and civil service commission.

An appropriation of $220 is also set aside for Salem City hospital while the remainder is to be used to purchase stationery, office supplies and general operation.

In the health fund the appropriated amount of $1,755.84 added to a balance of $14.36 is required to pay salaries of the city health commissioner, sanitary police and for the purchase of medical supplies and office stationery.

OBSTRUCTIONS IN CITY FIRE TRUCK'S PATH WILL LEAD TO PROSECUTION

Warning that persons who obstruct passage of fire trucks at fires will be prosecuted to the maximum was made Saturday morning by Safety Director A. H. Chalfant following the fire at the Mellinger home, Ross st.

After the fire at the National Sanitary plant, Safety Director Chalfant, upon approval of council, placed a provision in the parking ordinance prohibiting parking of automobiles within a given distance of fires and fire plugs. The parking ordinance was passed and it goes into effect July 21, thus making the fire provision a law at the same time.

Saturday morning Safety Director Chalfant stated that the automobiles had collected in the vicinity of the Mellinger home, blocking passage of fire trucks and interfering with fire fighting. The same thing took place last Sunday morning at the Acme store fire, firemen report.

Wife Kissed Them Goodbye
"She kissed us good bye and told us to go," Rev. Culp declared. "My wife knew that Esther and I have loved each other for a long time."

"Esther had been living with us for the summer. My wife had invited her into the home as a girl friend, not as a companion. She knew of our love for each other. She realized that Esther had taken the supreme place in my life. But she thought if she invited the girl into our home perhaps conditions would be more settled. She came, then not temporarily, but permanently."

"But after she had been in our home a while, my wife became intensely jealous. She longed for my love. I could not be demonstrative toward my wife, having no love for her. She saw the love carresses that (Continued on fifth page.)

Port Huron, Mich., July 15.—"Never marry without genuine love! If there had been real love in my marriage I would not be here today."

Thus the Rev. W. W. It was a strange story the runaway pair told, a story almost unbelievable in its unusual features and its de-

Making Bread Appetizing

IN an endeavor to get the children of the United States to eat more bread the federal government makes a plea for varied baking. Brown bread, corn bread and white bread on successive days would stimulate appetites, experts urge, and so would baking the flour in fanciful shapes or shaping sandwiches with a cake cutter or other device.

Every boy or girl from a country district who carried a lunch to school recalls the delights of unpacking the food supplied by a thoughtful mother. Sometimes there was the gingerbread man with his legs crossed, or the regular toaster—a man with legs so wrapped about each other that he seemed the limit in the way of fancy and ingenuity on the part of the baker.

Who of the tribe does not remember the currant or raisin bread so pleasing to the palate that invariably the city visitor begged for a loaf? This is another appetizing formula long familiar to country folk which Uncle Sam asks the country at large to produce. The addition of nut meats of various kinds to white or brown bread will convert any normal child into an Oliver Twist insistently asking for more.

Food is just as essential in the development of a child as it is in a horse or any other animal. Change of ration is as beneficial for humanity as for the lower order of creatures and should be encouraged.

Denatured Profanity

A WELL-MEANING reformer would eliminate our vigorous and popular profanity and substitute therefor "words of sweetness."

We doubt if ever this can be done. There are too many difficulties in the way. No one denies that profanity is coarse, vulgar and wicked, but it would require more time than is required in the discussion of a tariff measure, worlds of practice and the cultivation of an exceptional state of grace before one could find himself honestly saying "Sweet bunch of daisies" instead of "dammit" when he hits his thumb with a hammer.

Still, we suppose, it might be done. But if a fellow means "dammit" when he says "salvation," what is the moral gain?

There is the rub. How are we to express our feelings in terms that are foreign to the impulse which prompts us to say the "right" thing?

The man who inadvertently sits down on a freshly painted bench, and thereby impresses upon his trousers a ghastly smudge, isn't going to feel like saying, "Now I lay me down to sleep." Involuntarily, and quite naturally, he is certain to say something normally fitting to the occasion. If he said anything else the Recording Angel wouldn't be deceived in the least.

It is all quite too bad, but most mere mortals are built that way, so to speak.

Modern Campaigning

THE oldest resident in all Ohio can't recall a campaign that has been waged in the same manner as the one which is now going on in every nook and corner of the greatest state in the Union. With a field of candidates for every office, missionary parties are hitting the highways and byways telling why they should be nominated to a place on the state, district or county ticket. And the voters are just listening in, not saying much but sizing up the candidate, allowing liberal discounts for his promises and they will go to the polls and register their choice on August 8.

Some of the candidates are making their campaign by attacking their opponents. They are not telling what they would do themselves if nominated, but just generally picking to pieces the constitution of Ohio and the United States. Everything is wrong with them—and they alone are right. Others are visiting different parts of the state in gaily decorated automobiles, are received by brass bands and they orate and debate the cause—and attack the leading opponents for the same office.

44,885 MUTES IN U.S. CENSUS REPORT SHOWS

Washington, July 15.—The department of commerce announces that 44,885 deaf and dumb persons, or deaf mutes, were enumerated in the census of 1920. In 1910 the number was 44,708. The census bureau included as deaf mutes not only deaf persons literally unable to speak, but others totally deaf from an early age, who learned to speak by use of those special methods or means employed for teaching the deaf who have not acquired the art of speech in the ordinary way.

Owing to the increase of the general population during this decade, the enumerated deaf mute population formed only .425 per cent of the general population in 1920 as compared to .486 per cent in 1910. There was only one deaf mute for every 2,350 general population in 1920 as against one for every 2,060 in 1910.

In view of changes made in the method of reporting and the consequent uncertainty as to the relative completeness of the 1910 and 1920 enumerations, this apparent decrease cannot be taken as measuring the actual decrease.

OLD COUNTRY DOCTOR SAID TO BE PASSING

Acute shortage of country doctors in Ohio and prospect of shortage still more acute, are revealed in a study now being closed by C. E. Lively, professor of rural problems at Ohio State university.

It appears that every rural physician now in Ohio must take care of twice as many patients as do doctors in the large cities, and that young men from this medical colleges are not taking to country practices in anything like the numbers necessary to maintain even this condition.

Prof. Lively finds that there is a doctor to every 571 people in Ohio's seven largest cities. For Ohioans who live in communities of less than 2,500, there is but one doctor to every 1161 persons.

The average age of the Ohio country doctor is 54, the investigator states. This he takes to indicate that young men are no longer content to become general practitioners in the rural field. The trend toward specialization, and the development of large city hospitals is taking them more and more into the cities, Prof. Lively says.

31 Millions Live On Nation's Farms

Washington, July 15.—The Department of Commerce announces that, according to the fourteenth decennial census, the farm population of the United States on Jan. 1, 1920, was 31,614,269, or 29.9 per cent of the total population of the country on that date. Of this number, 31,358,649 were enumerated in rural territory and 255,620 on farms located within the limits of cities and other incorporated places having 2,500 inhabitants or more. It may be noted in this connection that the census definition of a farm excludes any tract or market garden, poultry yard, dairy or apiary which either yielded $250 worth of products in 1919 or required for its operation the continuous services of at least one person during that year. The farm population comprises both farm operators and farm laborers and their families, including farm laborers and their families not actually living on farms, but not living in incorporated places.

 Since the rural population as defined in the census includes incorporated cities, villages, etc., having fewer than 2,500 inhabitants, unincorporated hamlets, mining regions, and other areas not devoted to agriculture, it is not surprising to find that only 61 per cent of the total rural population as thus defined is farm population, and that while nearly one-half of the inhabitants of the United States are rural residents, only about three-tenths are living on farms.

Bill In Georgia Bans All "Fish" Tales To Wives

Atlanta, Ga., July 15.—From now on Georgia husbands will have to tell their wives the truth—and nothing but the truth—as to their reasons for not coming home nights, and especially must they beware of fishy yarns if the bill just introduced in the senate by Senator Dennis Fleming of the Tenth district is adopted.

The senator expresses considerable confidence in its chances, owing to the right of franchise now enjoyed by women of the state and the fear of politicians to oppose their wishes.

Should the bill pass, it would be unlawful for any married man within the state of Georgia to "slip away" from home without the full consent of his wife, stating his whereabouts at all times, and, in the further exact language of the bill, any and all married men who shall go fishing without the consent of their wives shall be guilty of a felony, and their sentence shall not be less than five nor more than 20 years at hard labor.

"Be it further enacted that any married man who shall get the full consent of his wife to go fishing, and fails to catch any fish, his wife shall have the right to cancel all permits in the future."

Airmen Trying To Descend Are Forced Upward

Washington, July 15.—Newton discovered the law of gravity, and Einstein amended it, but British airplane pilots have found a place where it is reversed; where airplanes when they try to descend are forced backward and upward, according to foreign attaches of the United States air service.

Pilots flying along the coast of New South Wales facing the Pacific ocean, pointing the noses of their planes downward, were amazed to find that they were ascending and flying backward.

The explanation was found to be that great upper wind trends, rushing in from the sea, impinge upon a long mountain chain and being deflected send vast eddies upward to uncharted heights.

The only way to get out of these eddies is to turn tail and take another course.

St. John A. M. E., East High st., H. L. Moore, pastor—Early prayer meeting, 6 a. m.; morning service, 11 a. m.; class meeting, 12 m.; Sunday school, 12:30 p. m.; evening service, 8 p. m. Cottage prayer meeting Tuesday evening. Prayer meeting at church Thursday evening.

What God Says about HIS ORDER

"And the evening and the morning were the first day"

This is God's order, evening first, followed by morning.

Rather peculiar, isn't it?

Did it ever occur to you that this is the Bible order all the way through? It begins in creation with the evening of chaos and the morning of light. It began again with the evening of man's sin and failure and has continued in evening and morning, and will continue until finally, as predicted in the 21st Chapter of Revelation, the morning there spoken of will come—the morning on which God "will make all things new."

And so it is in all our daily life, failure first, then success; loss first, then gain; sin first, then a Saviour; self first, then Christ; earth first, then gain; sin first, then a Saviour; self first, then Christ; earth sin and sorrow and death—but joy cometh in the morning.

Truly now we see it clearly, that the morning is the end and not the beginning. This is God's order.

The Sex of the Planes.

When the negroes of Stanley Pool saw the first two airships of the Belgian postal service land in the Congo region, their first impulse was to run away. However, on recognizing the uniform of the officers who descended from the apparatus, they immediately returned.

The next day their fear had completely disappeared. Why should they be afraid of these big birds? Were they not tamed by the white men? For they were surely a couple of birds; and without hesitation they pointed out the male bird and then the female.

Asked by what they could distinguish one from the other, they replied that it was not difficult. The birds did not know the country; the male bird descended first, then he called his female, that came down to land after him.

It is Mr. Louis Franck, minister of the Belgian colonies, who told this story at the Sorbonne.

Mob Breaks Into Armory, Driven Off By Police

Scranton, Pa., July 15.—Police and deputies from all parts of Lackawanna county were summoned to Carbondale, 16 miles north of this city, early today in connection with the strike of the railroad shopmen.

Joseph Walker, 27, a citizen, was fired upon, the police say by strikebreakers and he was seriously wounded. A volley came from a foundry where the strikebreakers are quartered by the Delaware and Hudson railroad.

Two hours later a mob of strikers caved in the doors of the state armory and were attempting to obtain guns and ammunition when the police arrived and drove the crowd off. At daybreak the mob was getting bigger and authorities took hasty preparations to prevent a serious outbreak.

GUARD MEN ACCUSED OF DYNAMITING TRAIN

Charlestown, W. Va., July 15.—Eight men arrested by state police in Boone county late yesterday, charged with implication in the dynamiting of the truck train of the Mordus colliery company, in which one man was killed and nine others injured, were rushed to the Cabot county jail at Huntington this morning for safe keeping.

The action was prompted by intense feeling in Boone county, and the insecure conditions of the Boone county jail.

The men under arrest were found in a house several miles from the scene of the dynamiting, having been followed by bloodhounds. Dynamite and other evidence were discovered on the premises, according to a report by state police made to headquarters here.

HALF YEAR BUDGET

(Continued from first page.) In the budget of the safety department. Of the $9,652.13 appropriated with the surplus of $107.37, $3,249 is for salaries of regular firemen with no provisions made for employment of special firemen. Two hose companies, the Independent Hose Co. and the Deluge Hose Co., were each given $300 for the upkeep of their rooms.

Operation of the police force for six months was placed at $1,620, exclusive of the $900 salary for the chief of police. Four hundred dollars was appropriated for extra police to be hired at the discretion of the safety director. The salary of the fire warden, amounting to $100, $1,200 for fuel and light, $270 for repair of fire hydrants and other incidental expenses consume the entire appropriation allowing nothing for purchase of fire and police department supplies other than those listed in the appropriation requests.

Service Director J. B. Bristol has been allowed $12,298.94 to operate his department, $9,902.04 being appropriated in addition to $2,395.90 carried forward.

Labor Payroll Greatest The labor payroll amounting to $4,158.22 is the greatest single expense of the service department. Salaries of the director, city engineer, operation of the service and engineer department total $1,340. A special assessment of $1,140.72 is for street cleaning.

Operation of the disposal plant costs the city $1,250 every six months with the operating expense sliced down to the lowest figure. Labor and teams cost $1,000, sewer repairs, $100, disposal plant repairs, $100 and equipment and supplies $50.

For the upkeep of public buildings $695 was appropriated. The janitor's salary is $180 and repairs, light bills and other incidental expenses comprise the remainder of the total expense. Every six months $325 is needed to sprinkle streets.

Street Lights Expensive Lighting of streets in Salem is expensive and if the current were not turned off on side streets after midnight the cost would be almost double the $3,200 appropriated. The big cost is the power, $2,500 being charged while $700 is spent for fixtures and repair of the lighting system.

For the upkeep of Centennial park $165.23 was appropriated. This is to be spent to pay the salary of a caretaker. Operation of the waterworks department is the biggest factor in the city, $40,760 being appropriated.

A stipulated amount is appropriated each six months for the operation of the waterworks department but the department is self sustaining and the money collected from water consumers is turned over to the treasurer and the amount appropriated is only the amount collected.

Waterworks Costs

In the waterworks department the general administration cost is $2,070 and the supply cost is $300. The operation of the pumping station amounts to $16,810, $3,533 being for salaries of engineers, $3,000 for fuel, $9,000 for current, $737 for extra labor and $540 for incidental expenses. The semi-annual maintenance cost is placed at $1,000, plus a distribution charge of $1,800.

For the upkeep of lands, buildings and equipment and payment of bonded interest $18,380 was appropriated. One thousand dollars is allowed for extension of water service, $50 for meter purchase and repairs and $50 for refunds. The bonded interest has been placed at $17,180, making the total amount appropriated for the waterworks fund $40,760.

MINISTER WHO ELOPED ARRESTED IN MICHIGAN

Xenia, July 15.—Preparations were being made here today for the return to Xenia of Rev. W. W. Culp who on June 14, left his wife and nine children at Spring alley, and eloped with Esther Hughes, 18, a music teacher who was boarding at his home. Both Rev. Culp and Miss Hughes were located at Port Huron, Mich., and are being held by authorities there.

While others were talking of bringing back Rev. Culp to face a charge of desertion here, his wife at their Spring Valley home said she would forgive him and take him back if he would give up the girl. With her nine children Mrs. Culp was prepared to move to her home at Wakarusa, Ind., but declared she would remain here if her husband came back to her. Family has been living on money Mrs. Culp earned taking in washings and by help from neighbors.

In addition to the charge of desertion placed against him here, Rev. Culp, who was a temporary minister at the Spring Valley M. E. church faces a charge at Dayton of removing from the state a mortgaged automobile.

STRIKES HALT PLANTS, BANK BLAST FURNACES

Youngstown, July 15.—Effects of the coal and railroad strikes which have been gradually curtailing operations of steel mills in Youngstown district were felt harder here today when the Republic Iron and Steel company banked two of its blast furnaces. The company's work schedule for next week shows that the Bessemer department will also be closed down. Officials described the situation as "very bad."

The Briar Hill Steel Co., with quite a reserve fuel supply on hand, expects to try and maintain full operation next week.

The Youngstown Sheet and Tube company is expected to bank one or two blast furnaces next week on account of the coal shortage.

All night Thursday night the heavily loaded trucks were on the go delivering crushed stone which will be added to the tar for surfacing the brick paving of the state road. The work of surfacing the road will begin early next week.

RUNAWAY PASTOR

passed between Esther and me and she grew daily more jealous and disagreeable.

"My wife has never been a real wife to me. For years I hungered for the love of a noble, Christian woman, one who could understand and sympathize with me and assist me in my work.

"Finally conditions became unbearable. My wife told me to take Esther home. I said, 'If she goes, I go with her.' My wife answered: 'Very well, then, you both go.'

"She knew when we planned our departure. She assisted Esther in the packing of her bag, telling her what things she should take with her. Then she kissed us both bye."

Says She Loves Culp

"We were not running away from our troubles," Esther said in a quiet voice. "One can't run away from one's troubles."

"I love Mr. Culp. I don't ever expect to meet another man that I can love as well. If they take him away from me there will be nothing left in my life."

"I believe that it was the Lord's will that we go," she said with a firm chin and steady eyes.

Culp will have examination, it is said, and is ready to return to Spring Valley with the sheriff from his home county, who is expected to arrive today for both Culp and Miss Hughes.

OHIO GUARDS

Indigent soldiers are available for service in either direction.

Up To Local Officials

"We expect the local officials to enforce the law. We stand firmly behind them to uphold and back up their efforts in that direction and the people may rest assured that as soon as it appears that protection of life and property justifies and demands such action, troops now being kept in readiness will move on the double quick," declared Gov. Davis here today.

"Whatever may be the respective loyalties of the contending sides in the coal strike, for or against the calling out of the guard, and the pressure that is thought to be exerted in some instances, we are solely concerned in taking such action as will safeguard and promote the general public welfare," continued the governor.

"The interest of all the people demands maintenance of peaceful conditions. So long as each community can, through their lawfully constituted local authorities, maintain order and prevent lawlessness, military action by the state would be as subversive of the public good as would delay in sending troops when really needed."

"Local officials should understand that the state government is now, and will continue to be, prepared to take hold of the situation in any locality where it seriously threatens to get out of the control of the local authorities. So far that has not been the case."

12 OUSTED PATROLMEN ASK COURT FOR JOBS

Youngstown, July 15.—Papers were served today on city officials in mandamus proceedings brought by twelve of twenty-six city patrolmen, who were not reappointed in reorganization of the Youngstown police department last week. The force had been reduced by a city ordinance.

Efforts of former Mayor George L. Oles to discharge 25 men were defeated when Common Pleas Judge David G. Jenkins ruled that members of the force must be reappointed. All except 26 were reappointed when Mayor W. G. Reese took office.

Petitions of the patrolmen allege they were removed without cause and contrary to state civil service laws. The petition names former Mayor Oles as one of the defendants.

Say Recovery Of Business Will Continue

Greatest Building Boom In History Of Country Is Under Way.

Cleveland, July 15.—While the coal and railroad strikes may handicap trade, there is no reason to doubt that the vigorous business recovery in recent months will continue for some time to come, says the Cleveland Trust company in a mid-month review of business conditions issued today.

"The first six months of 1932 have been a period of revival," says the bulletin. "Frozen loans have been thawed out and interest rates have fallen until money is available at easy rates for industrial expansion and commercial extension."

"The greatest building boom in the history of the country is under way and making good progress toward filling the building shortage that had accumulated during the war and post-war years. The most active bond market ever known has provided business with hundreds of millions of new capital. Prices have stopped falling. Confidence has been restored and industrial and railroad earnings are increasing."

"Almost unprecedented improvement has been witnessed in the iron and steel industry and in the automobile industry new high records of output are being made."

Coal Shortage Impends
"Building materials cost more in Cleveland than in most other cities. A small house, costing $5,782 in Cleveland would cost $4,900 in Dayton; in Detroit $4,700 and in Newark, N. J., it would cost $4,630."

A coal shortage is impending in this part of the country and in the northwest. In the case of anthracite a serious shortage cannot now be avoided.

"When bituminous coal stocks get down to 20,000,000 tons the danger point is reached and if they fall below that amount a coal famine results. They are down to that now, or very near it. Every week that passes without a settlement greatly increases the danger that reviving industry will be handicapped by lack of fuel."

"It appears probable that there will be a shortage of cars and a congestion of freight on the railroads this autumn. Car loadings for the first six months of the year have exceeded 1919 and 1921 and have been almost as large as 1920 when a car shortage did develop. When coal movements are resumed and crop shipments begin a heavy strain will be placed on the railroads."

POTTERS CONVENTION MAY ASK RESTORATION OF FORMER WAGE SCALE

Atlantic City, July 15.—The adoption and rejection of a number of minor wage resolutions formed the major portion of the discussions in Friday's session of the convention of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

So far none of the big problems have been acted upon, and meetings will likely be continued on into next week. It is understood that the price list committee for the general ware of which T. M. Woods, of East Liverpool is chairman, will likely report favorably on resolutions urging the restoration of the cut of 17 $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent accepted last year.

There appears a sentiment that the cut was more than necessary and that the delegates to the specially arranged conference with the manufacturers conceded too much.

There is no prediction regarding the probable report from the sanitary ware price list committee, of which S. M. Moore of Trenton is chairman.

Officers are clearing the docket for the most important propositions in order that the discussions may not be interrupted. One resolution today urges manufacturers to provide all the moulds at the bench of clay workers, and also take charge of changing and throwing of moulds. This phase is now being taken care of by the men themselves, and no provision for payment exists.

The kilnmen are asking a re-adjustment of the kilnman day basis of cubic feet in another resolution. Still another resolution asks manufacturers to institute the four way system of paying for jiggered ware, which provides that the maker of the ware and all help get paid on percentage basis in accordance with the skill of each worker.

Aged Couple Die In Suicide Pact

Dayton, July 15.—Mr and Mrs. James Horn, aged about 60, are dead.

Neighbors heard three shots at their home today and called the police. After the first examination the officers announced their belief that the two had entered into and put into effect a suicide pact. No motive was discovered.

Horn had been engaged in a manufacturing business. Letters written on July 11 bearing Horn's signature indicated suicide.

Horn was a native of England. He was general superintendent of the Barney & Smith Car Co. previous to the receivership.

PREVENT JAIL DELIVERY

Dublin, July 15.—An attempt to free the rebel political prisoners in Mountjoy jail, including Rory O'Connor, former commander-in-chief of the irregular army, was frustrated early today by the vigilance of the guards. It is understood that there are more than 1,000 prisoners in the jail.

SHRINERS ATTEND PICNIC

"Tickets, please."

Dorothy Martin roused herself from her book sufficiently to put her hand into her coat pocket. But—her purse wasn't there! She reached into the pocket on the other side. Then she looked up at the conductor in dismay, a grim, sour-looking old man who looked as if he would make allowances for no one.

"But I'm sure my purse was in my pocket when I boarded the train. It must be here."

While he waited she searched frantically on the seat, under the seat, in her traveling bag, in her hat box. Then, flushed and breathless, she looked up. "I'm sorry—I can give you a check. And here's my personal card."

"Sorry. We don't take no checks, miss."

"What can I do?"

"You'll have to get off at the next stop—St. Michael—a hundred miles further on. And I'll have to ask you to go into the coach."

It was a flushed and indignant young woman who gathered up her baggage and followed the conductor into the hot, stuffy coach.

About midday she found herself on the station platform, her patent leather luggage beside her.

"Porter, miss?"

But she had no money with which to pay for such a luxury, so, much to his disgust, she struggled into the ticket office, up to the window, and asked for a telegraph blank.

"Lost purse. Telegraph one hundred to me at St. Michael, Dorothy."

"Yes, it can go collect. Wait a minute."

To the astonishment of the waiting clerk, she tore the telegram into small pieces. "I've changed my mind." And she strode across the room to the lunch counter.

"Is that job filled?" pointing eagerly to a sign, "Waitress Wanted," before the cashier's window.

The woman looked up, took in at a single glance every detail in the appearance of the slim, aristocratic-looking girl standing before her. "No'm, it ain't."

"I want it."

"Joe, Joe," called the woman in a high, nasal voice. "This gal wants yer job. She don't look like nuthin, but mebbe she'll be better'n nothing."

Before Dorothy was aware of what had happened, she was behind the counter, serving the hungry hordes who had ridden with her to St. Michael and who were clamoring deafeningly for eggs, sandwiches, custard pie and coffee as if they hadn't consumed basketsful of food in the preceding three hours.

St. Michael was an ugly, sprawling settlement of about twenty frame houses—dirty, weather-beaten, desolate.

One week rolled by, two. In two more weeks Dorothy would have saved enough to get home.

She had just lifted a huge, steaming kettle of soup to the table in her corner of the counter when the Burlington train roared in. Hardly had its brakes brought it to a standstill when a throng of men burst through the doors. The women and children always struggled in and tried to push through the men three-deep at the counter. As she reached for a cup, a familiar voice rang out, "Dorothy."

A tall young man was pushing toward the counter.

"I think you are mistaken, sir."

"Dorothy?"

"Move on there, young fellow. You can't be annoying my girls. Move on."

"But—"

"Move on, didn't I tell you?" It was Joe, and he was advancing threateningly upon the young man.

"Oh, Dick"—then her voice broke.

"No, no, Joe; he knows me; it's all right. I'm to blame."

Before she knew how it all happened Dorothy was in Dick's arms, sobbing fitfully.

"But why did you do it, dear? Haven't you seen the papers? We've been nearly frantic!"

"I almost telegraphed dad. I was prepared for even his 'I told you so.' And then I saw the sign, 'Waitress Wanted,' and I thought it would be a lark to earn my own way home. It's been hard, Dickie, but—"

The limited carried an extra passenger when it left St. Michael. The Pullman folk were rather curious and amused at the solicitude with which an aristocratic-looking young man peeled eggs and unwrapped sandwiches for an equally aristocratic-looking but ravenously hungry young woman.

Purely Educational.

"Do you find much relaxation in golf?"

"Not a bit," said Mr. Dubwalte.

"Then why do you play?"

"I've got to acquire a golf vocabulary to be able to hold up my end of a conversation."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

FEED YOUNG CHICKENS THROUGHOUT SUMMER

Keep right on feeding the chicks, say poultry extension men of the Ohio State university who are leading a state-wide educational campaign on flock feeding, just started through the medium of the township and county farm bureaus.

One such worker, G. S. Vickers who is now conducting special feeding schools for farmers who will lead their townships in the campaign, tells his audiences of a farm recently visited that he believes is representative of conditions on thousands of other farms and in many suburban back yards.

"The owner of this farm brought 800 chicks to the age of 10 weeks in excellent shape. Then stopped feeding everything but a little grain, and that only occasionally."

"Within a week the chicks stopped growing. They took on that shriveled appearance which marks the underfed animal. They were ravenously hungry. A man going among them was lucky to get out with his shoe strings."

"All that was needed to put this young flock again on the road to growth and profits was a good dry mash and a supply of milk kept before them at all times."

"To feed for eggs one must start long before the flock is of laying age, and keep it up. How chicks are fed this month and next determines to a great extent how many eggs they will give next winter when they come into production."

GASOLINE STOCKS DROP WHEN AUTOS INCREASE

Washington, July 15.—That the hum and purr of the automobile engine is more audible than ever, and that America has taken to wheels, is indicated by the announcement by the Bureau of Mines that gasoline stocks in the United States, which have been steadily mounting to new high record marks are now on the decline.

On June 1, stocks on hand at the refineries amounted to 856,607,102 gallons, which is 25,661,000 gallons below the record figure of 882,267,762 gallons attained at the beginning of May. The fact that the billion-gallon mark, forecasted in some quarters, was not reached seems due to the tremendous increase in domestic consumption of gasoline which amounted to 499,242,343 gallons in May.

This figure represents an increase in domestic consumption of gasoline of 113,000,000 gallons over the month of April and 145,000,000 gallons over the month of May, 1921. Gasoline consumption figures for May constitute a record for that month, and are within four million gallons of the record-setting figure attained in August, 1921 although occurring three months before the customary month of largest consumption.

ELKRUN GRANGE ACTIVE ATTENDANCE INCREASES

Elkton, July 15.—Of all granges in Columbiana county, Elkrun grange seems to be among the most active. The increased membership has been so steady of late, that consideration is now being given to the erection of a new grange hall.

People of this community are taking an interest in grange work and their activity is proven by the reports of recent meetings when the average attendance has been around 100.

During the period covered from the last meeting in March, or during the last six meetings, 57 people gave their promise to take some part in the program during these meetings. Of those who so promised 38 responded.

During the first quarter this year the average attendance at the Elkrun grange meetings was down to 49, and for the second quarter this increased to 100 per meeting.

Mrs. Linton Tells How Helpful Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is at This Period

Denver, Colorado.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for seven years and I cannot tell you the good it has done me. It is good for young and old and I always keep a bottle of it in the house, for I am at that time of life when it calls for Lydia E. Pinkham's help. My husband saw your ad. in the papers and said 'You have taken everything you can think of, now I want you to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound!' So I let him get it, and I soon felt better, and he told me 'I want you to take about six bottles.' So I did and I keep house and do all my own work and work out by the day and feel fine now. I tell every one about the Vegetable Compound, for so many of my friends thought I would not get well."—Mrs. R. J. LINTON, 1850 West 33rd Avenue, Denver, Colorado.

After reading letters like the above, and we are constantly publishing them, why should any woman hesitate to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound if she is in need of help? It brings relief where other medicines fail.

18,000 Children In State Doing Farm Club Work

Probably no other state can equal Ohio's enrollment of county youngsters in farm and home project clubs this year. Ohio has 18,770. Count of them has just been completed by the office of the State club leader, at the Ohio State university.
This is an increase of a full 50 per cent over last year's enrollment. Even then, Ohio stood high among the states. This year, 5604 boys and girls have pure bred pigs which they are raising not only for the prizes involved, but also to show the old folks that a smart youngster can raise right smart of a pig if he gets the right stock to start with and then goes about it in the modern way.
But the most popular of the club project is clothing. A total of more than 7,000 girls are making their own clothes in greater or less degree: aprons if they are in their first year of the work, whole outfits if they are in their third or fourth year of it. More than 4,700 girls are cooking and canning.

Almost 800 children are in dairy and calf clubs; more than 200 are raising beef calves competitively; 800 are in poultry clubs, and the remainder are raising garden truck, sheep, potatoes, or corn.

Wood has the greatest county enrollment, 867. In this county and also in Auglaize, club work is said to be reaching and training one in every four of all the country children. Harrison is the only Ohio county without such work. The average enrollment of the other 84 counties is 216.
